Title: Le Début De Tout Remixed

Format: Digital

Release Date: 14th of June 2013

File Under: Deep House

London, UK, 31st of May 2013 – sinnmusik*'s third release is a remix-only follow up to their debut release by the Portuguese duo Bis Boys Please.

Remixed by the minds of DJ Quiz, Javi Green and our very own Aérolique. This release needs no introduction.

DJ Quiz comes back into the game, after years of absence in the studio he brings the young vocal gun Krystal on board to fully replace the vocal samples on his remix. The results are fantastic. A true trip through different electronic genres without losing its essential House touch.

Aérolique takes this monster-closing track and signs his remix with his calm, decelerated and unique style. The remix is shape shifting around the tracks unifying core with floating synths while the galloping beat keeps up the pace. This is a brilliant result for his debut as a skilled remixer.

Oscar Was Right \(Javi Green Instrumental Remix\)

Javi Green, the Balearic DJ, Producer and Remixer, has finally found time to dedicate himself in the studio and brings us his take on "Oscar Was Right" with pumping analog beats and fluffy grooves. A forward pushing instrumental remix with all the right ingredients to keep the dance floor moving and shaking.
