Release Date: 25th of May 2015

File Under: Deep House

London, UK, 2015 – Hailing down from Manchester an extremely diverse city for upcoming talent and which is continuously flooded by waves and waves of overseas Big Names. However, Vibe Killers are the new boys on the block, or shall we say the new local brothers that are hungry to spread overseas themselves and for this join sinnmusik with their debut EP Question Mark.

Listen: <https://soundcloud.com/sinnmusik/sets/sm031>

Kicking things off is 'Question Mark' the title track on this 4-tracker EP: the unapparent vocals and occasional background piano keeps the listener engaged in a jumpy, upbeat and uplifting energy.

This edgy sensation is taken on further on the rework by Brighton based Jason Pepperell. Highlighting a significant impact a midway break can have, as well as exposing the 'up and down' sound giving it that classic garage feel.

G.Markus strips it down and unveils the tracks' fluent layers of drums, bells and snares, keeping that playful and sexy drive throughout.

Next up is 'Quest'. A funky stomper that has got summer written all over it! A compact set of break-beating drums and head-bopping kicks, proves it to be both a party starter and an early dancefloor groover.

To round things off, Leigh D Oliver polishes the track and draws out a series of chunky drops - bringing an even more progressive, fist pumping vibe to the release with a extremely bumpy and engaging bass line.

The two brothers Mark and Michael have certainly left a solid footprint with this EP and we'll surely see more by the duo in the coming months.
